

Glycyrrhiza glabra - licorice

MI-R001

Glycyrrhiza glabra is the Latin Name of Licorice. This wonderful plant grows in the sub-tropical and warm temperate regions of the world, chiefly in Mediterranean countries.

Licorice is one of the most widely used herb from the ancient medical to modern pharmaceutical industries, cosmetic industries and food industries. It is a very sweet, moist, soothing herb that detoxifies and protects the liver and is also a powerful anti-inflammatory, being used in conditions as varied as arthritis and mouth ulcers. Licorice is one of the most commonly used herbs in western herbal medicine.

Turkey is the main source of Glycyrrhiza glabra, acting as the largest exporter in the world. We collect dry glycyrrhiza glabra in east Turkey directly. Basing on our unique source, we provide our clients high quality Glycyrrhiza glabra(stick or milled) with very competitive price.